It's more than a personal organizer. It's a PC companion

IBM

IBM WorkPad®
Pocket-sized PC Companion

Highlights

Your PC companion

More than just a personal organizer, the IBM WorkPad PC companion extends the power of the desktop PC and the network to provide mobile individuals a window into their most critical information. The IBM WorkPad PC companion gives you instant, anywhere access to your address book, calendar, memo pad, to-do lists and downloaded e-mails.

Stay in sync

Exchange data seamlessly with popular Personal Information Management (PIM) applications with third-party linking software available separately. HotSync® technology allows you to quickly synchronize data in your WorkPad PC companion with data in your computer—all with the push of a button.

NEW!

More memory, slimmer design

The WorkPad c3 (40U) features a new ultrathin profile, a brighter, higher-contrast screen, and a new recharging cradle. The WorkPad model 30X now features twice as much storage capacity!

Expand your network

The IBM WorkPad offers a server-based, cross-platform solution that can be scaled from the largest network to the palm of your hand.
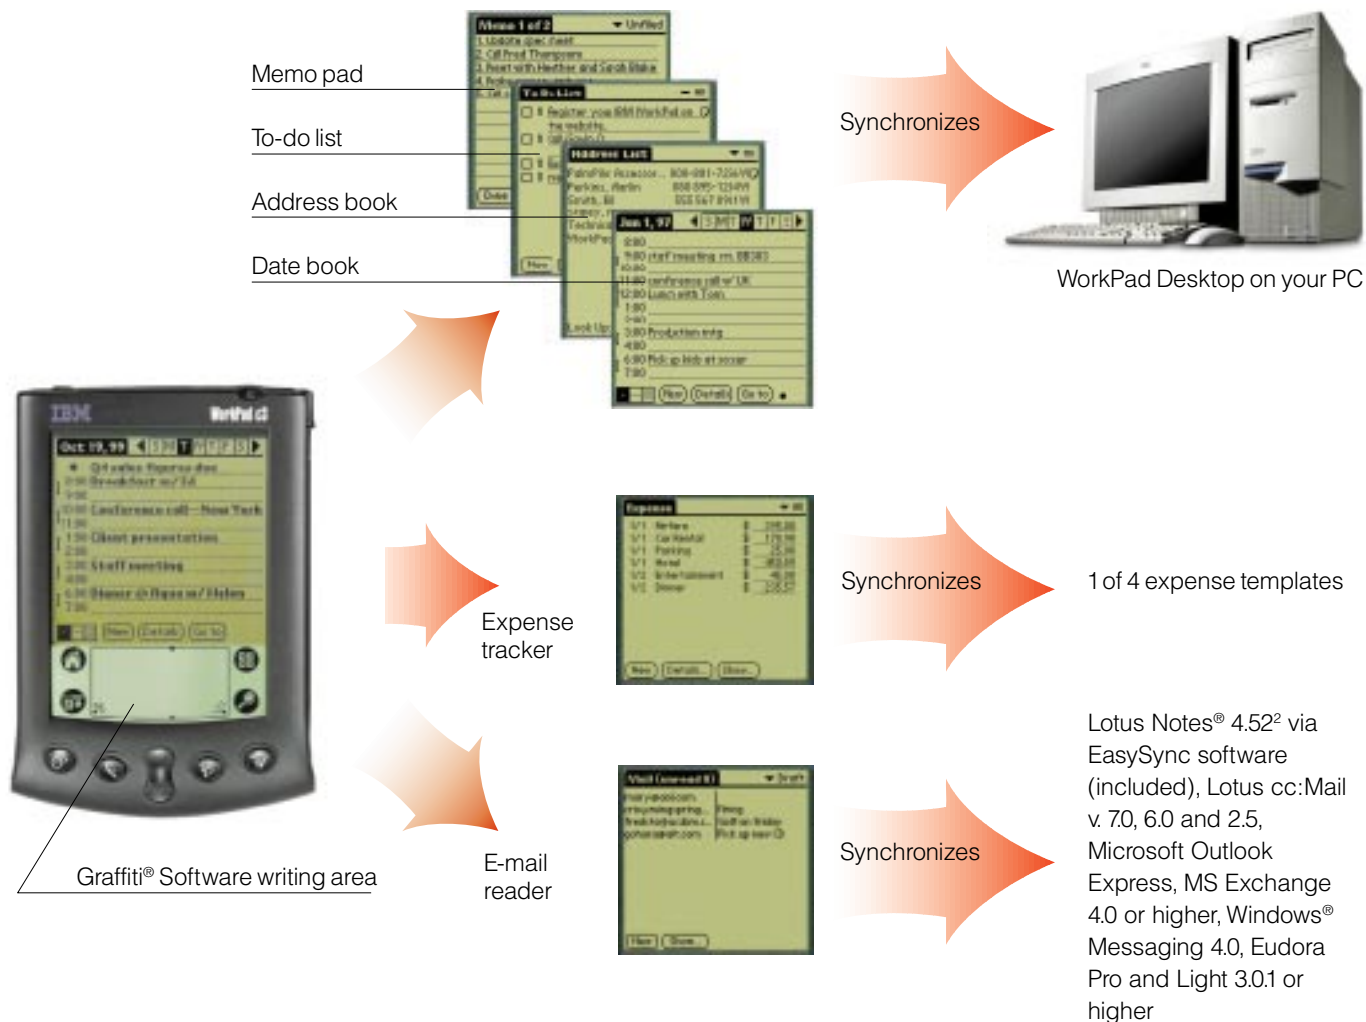

NEW!

Global availability and support

The IBM WorkPad is now available on a worldwide basis. And no matter where you are, your WorkPad is backed by IBM's renowned customer support, available toll-free 24x7[1] during the warranty period.

Software and hardware solutions

Hundreds of innovative third-party applications (shrink-wrapped and shareware software) and hardware products are available to expand the power of your WorkPad PC companion. Be sure to visit the Software Resource Guide at www.ibm.com/pc/us/ workpad/srg/catalogue.html for an extensive catalog of hundreds of exciting software and hardware solutions that allow you to:

- receive pages
- browse the Internet
- send faxes
- send and receive e-mail
- perform hundreds more functions

Other applications, such as EasySync for Lotus Notes and Lotus Organizer® (included), IntelliSync and many others allow you to bilaterally synchronize critical information on your desktop PC, notebook or server so you can quickly download information to your device and carry it with you.
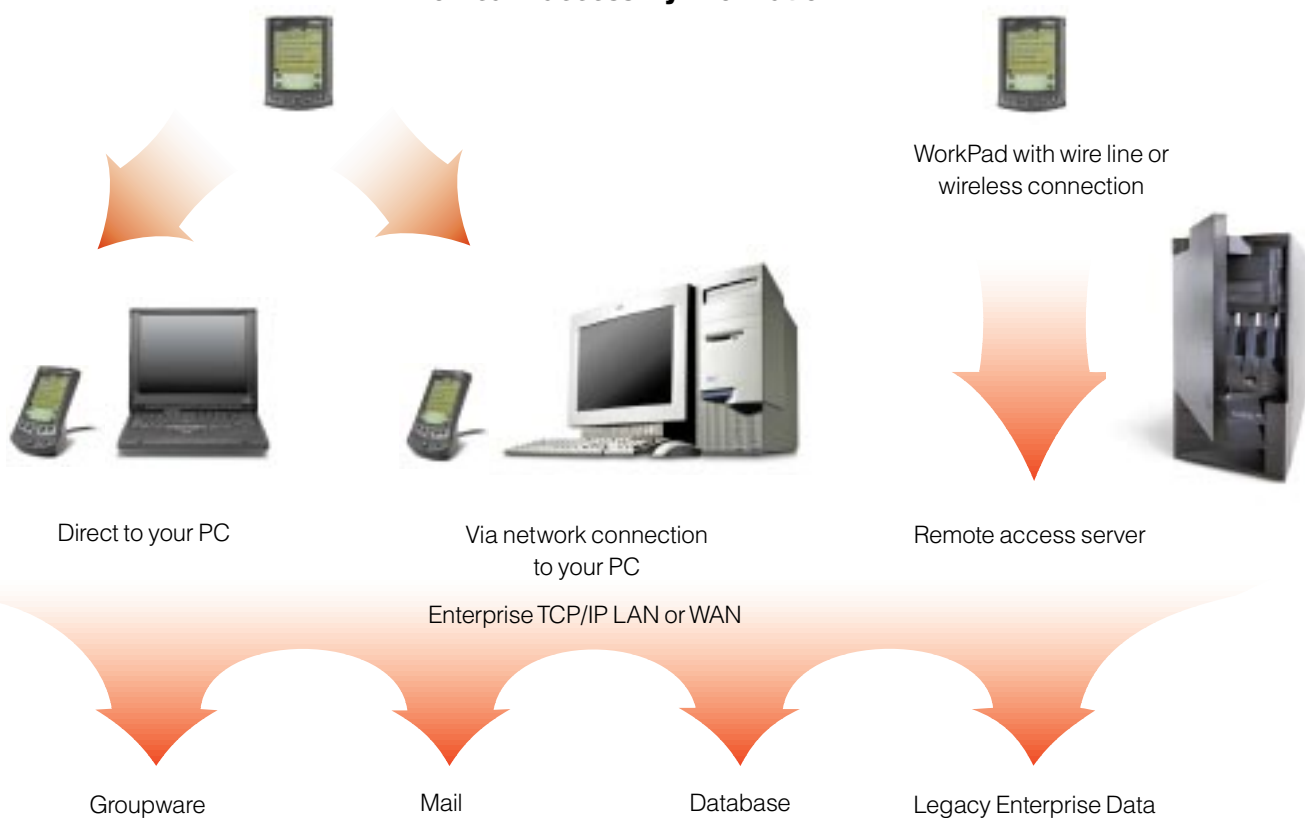

Many industries, such as the financial, sales, distribution and health/medical professions are discovering practical and innovative Palm Computing® platform solutions that provide mobile access to critical information on network databases. A few of these applications include:

- AvantGo™ Web Client by AvantGo Software allows developers to build and deploy Web-based applications using popular Web authoring and development tools which allow users to synchronize with corporate databases and reporting applications.
- OracleLite by Oracle® Corporation allows seamless integration of Palm Computing applications with Oracle 8™ databases.
- UltraLite by Sybase™ Inc. provides next-generation database applications for the Palm Computing platform.
- Scout™ by Riverbed Technologies provides a bidirectional synchronization solution between your enterprise servers and your PC companion.

Enterprisewide developer-customized solutions

For businesses seeking enterprisewide solutions that scale from the largest of networks to the palms of individual users, the WorkPad device's Palm OS™ offers a platform for robust, easy-to-customize solutions. Developer tools, such as Code Warrior® for Palm Computing platform, allow you to write customized programs that run on the WorkPad PC companion. The possibilities are almost limitless for businesses that recognize the benefits of taking network information and placing it in the pockets of mobile employees.
